

There is staggering need to find qualified employees to offset the rapid growth of the gas production industry. Specific screening requirements have been set by the Department of Transportation (DOT) and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA).

ProVerify™'s Energy products and services are designed to solve the bottleneck of overwhelming need to hire qualified candidates.

Solve the bottleneck of overwhelming need to hire qualified candidates.

Our system streamlines the hiring process and integrates with web-based solutions that allow for real-time reporting and hiring. The ProVerify™ platform allows human resources professionals to enter applicant information, request orders, and receive reports all in one place. When your company partners with ProVerify™ you will have access to our team of highly trained program specialists. Our staff will assist your organization in developing a customized screening solution, provide friendly customer service and technical support, as well as system training and program implementation. Our goal is to provide a screening solution tailored to specific industry requirements and your company's objectives. We invite you to contact us to learn more about how we can assist your company.

The following services are available for the Energy Industry:

Criminal Record Investigations

Nationwide Background Investigations

DOT Compliance Qualification Testing

Substance Abuse Screening

Pre-employment Physicals

Social Security Trace

Motor Vehicle Records Examination

Education and Credential Verification

Employment History Verification

Current Employer Verification

Credit History Examination

Professional Reference Checks

OSHA Safety Training